VOTER ID

By Carl Burton

Most Democrats are currently opposed to Voter ID because, they claim, that it will unfairly discriminate against minorities who they apparently believe are incapable of securing photo ID's. The only minorities who will be kept from voting with Voter ID's are illegals' and I believe California needs to join with other states and pass a Voter ID law that includes a requirement for photo ID.

CANDIDATES:

Mitt Romney, Republican candidate for President;

Elizabeth Emken, Republican candidate for U.S. Senator;

State Senator Doug La Malta, Republican Candidate for Congressman (1st Dist);

Supervisor Kim Vann, Republican Candidate for Congresswoman (3rd Dist);

Reelection of Congressman Dan Lungren (7th Dist);

Ricky Gill, Congressional candidate (9th Dist);

Reelection of State Senator Ted Gaines (1st Dist)

Assemblyman Bill Berryhill, State Senator (5th Dist);

AN OPEN LETTER TO MEMBERS OF RIVER CITY

By Carl Burton

The Primary Election for 2012 is over and we have a team of Republicans going into the November election that will represent Sacramento County that includes:

Former Gov. Mitt Romney for President and Elizabeth Emken for U. S. Senator, Congressman Dan Lungren for the 7th Congressional District, Supervisor Kim Vann for the 3rd District, Joseph McCray, Sr. for the 6th District and Ricky Gill for the 9th District State Senator Ted Gains for the 1st Senatorial District and Assemblyman Bill Berryhill for the 5th District (no republicans ran in 3rd District Senatorial District) Assemblywomen Beth Gains in the 6th Assembly District, Jonathan Zachariou in the 7th District, Peter Tateish in the 8th District, Tony Amador in the 9th District and Mike Hudson in the 11th District.

Plus we will have a number of Republican candidates running for city councils, school boards and other special district this coming November

Republicans of River City (RRC) will work to elect our Republican team but we need your help to succeed.

A 2011 Harvard University study finds that July 4th parades energize Republicans, help turn kids into Republicans, and help to boost GOP turnout on Election Day. To read the full report visit <http://www.hks.harvard.edu/fs/dyanagi/Research/FourthOfJuly.pdf>

The 4th of July weekend is almost here and for many Americans, the weekend is dedicated to celebrating America's independence and freedom.

RRC needs your contribution of $25.00 or more to help us have a booth at 4th of July events in Sacramento County this year.

Each year, local Fourth of July fireworks displays go off in Rancho Cordova at 9:45 pm and with your contribution Republicans of River City can have a booth at the event to pass out information about our Republican candidates for the upcoming November election and to register voters.

It will be Rancho Cordova's 26th Annual July 4 celebration with a parade, a carnival, arcade, rides, music and one of the best free fireworks displays and a salute to the Red, White & Blue.

The theme of our Republican booth at the Sacramento County Fair earlier this year was We're Red, White and Blue and we're Republicans; we will have the same theme at our booths in Rancho Cordova. With your help we will register voters and sign up volunteers to help in getting out the vote this November.

You can view pictures of our booth at the recent county fair by visiting our web site at www.rrcgop.org. If you would like to volunteer in our upcoming booths, let me know.

Thanks for your help.

HAVE YOU EVER WONDERED WHAT HAPPENED TO THE 56 MEN WHO SIGNED THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE?

By Carl Burton

They signed and they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor, but what kind of men were they?

Five signers were captured by the British as traitors and tortured before they died.

Twelve had their homes ransacked and burned. Two lost their sons serving in the Revolutionary Army; another had two sons captured.

Nine of the 56 fought and died from wounds or hardships of the Revolutionary War.

Twenty-four were lawyers and jurists. Eleven were merchants, nine were farmers and large plantation owners; men of means, well educated, but they signed the Declaration of Independence knowing full well that the penalty would be death if they were captured.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy planter and trader, saw his ships swept from the seas by the British Navy. He sold his home and properties to pay his debts, and died in rags.

Thomas McKean was so hounded by the British that he was forced to move his family almost constantly. He served in the Congress without pay, and his family was kept in hiding. His possessions were taken from him, and poverty was his reward.

Vandals or soldiers looted the properties of Dillery, Hall, Clymer, Walton, Gwinnett, Heyward, Rutledge, and Middleton.

At the battle of Yorktown , Thomas Nelson, Jr., noted that the British General Cornwallis had taken over the Nelson home for his headquarters. He quietly urged General George Washington to open fire. The home was destroyed and Nelson died bankrupt.

Francis Lewis had his home and properties destroyed. The enemy jailed his wife, and she died within a few months.

John Hart was driven from his wife's bedside as she was dying. Their 13 children fled for their lives. His fields and his gristmill were laid to waste. For more than a year he lived in forests and caves, returning home to find his wife dead and his children vanished.

So, take a few minutes while enjoying your 4th of July holiday and silently thank these patriots.

Remember: Freedom is never free!

ROMNEY AND OBAMA DUEL WITH COMPETING SPEECHES ON ECONOMICS

June 14, 2012

President Barack Obama and Republican candidate Mitt Romney went head-to-head to define the choice before voters in speeches delivered from opposite ends of Ohio.

Romney in Cincinnati accused Obama of putting up barriers for the private sector that hamper the recovery. He said Obama doesn't deserve more time to see if his policies will work.

Romney said "As you look at the president's record, it is long on words and short on action that created jobs, Talk is cheap, action speaks loudly. Look what's happened across this country."

A few minutes later, Obama told an crowd in Cleveland "This election is about our economic future. This isn't some abstract debate. This is not another trivial Washington argument."

Neither candidate laid out new ideas, but Romney:

- vowed that he would roll back the health-care law that Obama pushed through Congress, remove regulations on energy development and brand China a currency manipulator.

- urged audience members to ask business owners, "Did President Obama's policies help put people back to work?"

- faulted Obama for continued high unemployment and high energy prices and said that his policies would revive the struggling economy.

Romney said "We're poised to see a resurgence of American economic vitality, That won't happen under this president. That'll happen if we change the course of this country."

Obama charged that Romney wants to repeat the policies of the last decade, which he said brought prosperity to the nation's wealthiest at the expense of middle-income Americans. He alleged that the economic challenges facing the U.S. were "more than a decade in the making,"

Obama said "This was not your normal recession, We acted fast, our economy started growing again six month after I took office, and it has continued to grow for the last three years." He went on to blame President George W. Bush for the state of the economy, saying that Romney's economic vision "was tested just a few years ago," and the result was a ballooning deficit and a shrinking middle class. "Why would we think they would work better this time? We can't afford to jeopardize our future by repeating the mistakes of the past."
